our long journey of sufferings is surely not in vain. In keeping with the divine order, everything must be earned; it is not easy for humans to consider this requirement that promotes each person's evolution. It takes time to understand and accept these principles. Everything is counted and so willed by this higher power that is decisive in the karma of each human being. Steadfastly following a spiritual path saves valuable time. Each incarnation is important in that process as a preparation for the next; it creates an aspect that is conducive to what the next incarnation will be — all this for the good of the entity concerned. So many aspects need to be considered in this area. The complexity of life keeps its mysteries, and the human being must be content to progress according to his or her capabilities in order to reach the next steps, which have long been planned and outlined. What is to be will be; following the Sahaj Marg way testifies to a certain level of attainment that will necessarily lead the seeker to the approach that best meets his or her aspirations. It is beautiful and satisfying to see, through the results obtained over the long run, the number of persons who are committed thanks to this wonderful method.

"The number of abhyasis is growing, as is the aura of this Mission that is positioning itself better and better on the journey towards what is essential. Perseverance and faith are crucial in this matter. Our monitoring and blessings converge to produce the best results.

"This is how it is."
